Bowden Director Of Civil Defense Project At University

10 WEEK COURSE TO TEACH STUDENTS AT UA CENTERS

Max Bowden, who was superintendent of the Elba City School until his resignation in January which became effective June 1st, has been employed by the University of Alabama as director of the special Civil Defense training project the University has agreed to undertake in support of the Alabama Civil Defense program.

Extension Dean J.R. Morton, said Bowden's joining the staff this month in Tuscaloosa is preliminary to offering Civil Defense classes beginning this fall at the University Centers.

It is planned that classes will be held in each University Center also the Sheffield-Florence area and in Tuscaloosa. Beginning in September, the classes will last approximately 10 weeks with three hours of instruction being given one night each week. Courses taught will be in shelter management and radiological monitoring. These will be tuition free to any person interested in or charged with conducting Civil Defense classes on local community levels.

Bowden has thirteen years as teacher and principal and served the Elba City Schools for two years as superintendent. During the time he was in the Elba schools, all teachers were placed in their respective fields and the largest ratio of teachers with M.A. degrees in the school's history was realized under his leadership and new courses were added to the curriculum.

During the two years he was with the Elba schools, the Mulberry Heights School was built and plans made for a new high school for white students. A 5-mill tax was passed by a comfortable margin after it had been defeated three years earlier and both the elementary and high schools for white students entered into a study that will eventually lead to accreditation.

He will be in Battle Creek, Michigan from July 14 through August 9 attending a nationally organized short course touching on shelter use, radiological monitoring, radiological defense officers, shelter management, Civil Defense management.

Smart Warns Drivers Within City Limits

Chief of Police Jack Smart calls attention to drivers of running stop signs, stop streets, and speeding within the city.

Chief Smart also calls attention to drivers as to improper parking. A number of drivers have been parking in "No Parking" spaces and in loading parking areas. This has especially been noticeable since the discontinuing of the parking meters. Chief Smart and his co-workers are working to avoid accidents and will be forced to give drivers, who do not abide by these rules, traffic tickets.

CAPTAIN PAUL ENGLISH

At present, Captain English is stationed in Pittsburg, Pa., as Battery Commander of a Missile Site there. He will leave in January of '64 for a tour of duty in Vietnam. Prior to that assignment he will attend a special course in Military Warfare at Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

(Story of awards presented and Jaycee achievements to be published next week.)

State Law Requires Rabies Inoculations Given To Pets

INSPECTOR SLATES CLINIC IN COFFEE COUNTY

A rabies clinic will be announced next week in The Clipper. Dr. Phillip Hammon, who is rabies inspector for the western part of Coffee County, will hold the clinic for the benefit of pet owners.

It is very necessary that all dogs and cats be given the rabies shots for the protection of their owners, children and also other animals.

Every year it is necessary that humans be required to suffer the ordeal of the many shots necessary when bitten by a rabies animal. Except for the shots they would have certain death after being bitten by a rabies animal.

Law requires that all dogs and cats be destroyed as a safe guard to humans and animals. The rabies clinic is set up every year for the benefit of pet and hunting dog owners. It is not a money-making activity for the vet holding the clinic but more or less a service.

Rabies is an acute fatal infectious disease caused by a filterable virus, transmitted thru the bite of a rabid animal and characterized by an emotional and nervous disorder, with reflex excitability, paralysis, and death.

The disease is primarily one of the canine (dog) and feline species and other carnivores (meat eaters). But all warm blooded animals are susceptible. Other species of animals do not communicate the disease for they are not inclined to bite. Seldom is rabies more than once removed from the dog. Therefore, control of rabies in dogs tends to control the disease in all animals.

Rabies occurs in all parts of the world and is especially prevalent in temperate zones and where there is a large canine population. It is widely prevalent in the U.S. however many areas in this country are relatively free of the disease due to the large percentage of dogs vaccinated.

The virus is found in many tissues of the rabid animal and only excreted in the saliva. In nature, it is transmitted from animal to animal by means of a bite and contamination of a wound with virus bearing saliva. Virus may be present in the saliva of animals several days prior to the onset of symptom. Thus, animals in a very early stage of rabies may transmit the disease thru biting.

The incubation period is variable, but in the great majority of cases, regardless of species, onset is not long delayed and death occurs within 15 to 40 days. Rarely the incubation period may be much longer even several months.

The symptoms of rabies are those of a nervous or mental disorder. They range from docile to furious. Therefore most positive diagnosis of rabies must be made on examination of the brainstem after death.

A family vacation should be planned to avoid prolonged driving over strange roads or into the night when accident hazards increase greatly.

ROBERT F. (BOBBY) INMAN

MAN has made the Dean's List for the past four semesters at the University of Alabama. For the 1963 spring semester Dean's List he was an all A (3 point) student. At the present Bobby is employed at Radio Station WJRD in Tuscaloosa. He has worked with Educational TV and WTBC Radio Station. Bobby is a member of Phi Kappa Phi fraternity and served as Rush chairman and two years as historian during which time he also was editor of Omicron, a fraternity publication. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. (Sonny) Inman, of Elba.

Reservists To Gather For Summer Training

Fifteen Wiregrass communities will be represented when members of the 3399th Aviation Training Command report to Fort Rucker Sunday for their two weeks' summer training.

Dothan will have the largest representation, 41 men, while Enterprise will have 14 men and Ozark six. Other towns having members in the area's largest Army Reserve Unit are Ashford, Chancellor, Columbia, Daleville, Geneva, Hoadland, Midland City, New Brockton, Newton, Samson, Stocumb and Donaldsonville, Georgia.

During the active duty period, command members will work alongside their Army Aviation Center counterparts polishing their skill in such various jobs as air traffic control, crash and rescue, parachute rigging, synthetic trainer operations and flight training. The unit commander, Lieutenant Colonel Lawrence E. Ballentine, says that the 3399th still has vacancies for both officers and enlisted men. Details are available at the Army Reserve Center, Airport Road, Dothan.

VOTING MACHINES DELIVERED - Coffee County Commissioners purchased voting machines early in May at an approximate cost of $31,250.00. Monday the machines for the City of Elba were delivered to the courthouse. Seventeen machines were purchased, six to be placed in Beat 6 (Elba) two in Beat 9 (New Brockton) and nine in Beat 17 (Enterprise).

The machines will be used for the first time at the amendment election which will be held August 8th.

Machines are being set up in each Beat so that voters may see them, examine the machine and otherwise become familiar with the operation of the machines prior to when they go to the polls to cast a ballot in August. Voters will have the privilege of going through the operation of voting, thus saving time on election day when they actually cast a ballot. Election returns will be completed much quicker with the use of the machines and within minutes after the polls close an official return can be made. Where it has been necessary for six election officials to serve at the polls with paper ballots only four will be necessary with the machines.

Coffee Students Make Deans List At UA

Five hundred and ten University of Alabama students have been named to the 1963 spring semester Deans List. To be eligible for the honor a student must make a 2.5 or better scholastic average, a 2 point being B and a 3 point A.

Coffee County was represented on the list by the following students:

Elba: Sue W. Blair, Nursing; Tom B. Vaughan, Jr., Arts and Sciences, (All A's); Robert P. Inman, Arts and Sciences, (All A's).

Enterprise: Shirley G. Bass, Nursing; Frances P. O'Gwynn, Education, (All A's).

When approaching a bicycle rider from behind, watch the way he turns his head, traffic police warn. The direction he turns his head usually will correspond to the direction he turns the bike.

OUTSTANDING PERFORMANCE... A $100 check is presented Mrs. Betty B. Boutwell of Elba by Colonel Melvin A. McDuff, Deputy Commander of the Army Aviation Center, Fort Rucker. Mrs. Boutwell, a supervisory clerk-typist for the Director of Instruction, Army Aviation School, was cited for outstanding performance of her duties.

POOR ORIGINAL

THROUGH THE KEYHOLE

BY MRS. ROBERT CANNON

A SUMMER IN VIRGINIA is being enjoyed by Sara Priest Haire who is attending the summer session at St. Margaret's Episcopal School for Girls, which is located at Tappahannock, Virginia.

Sara Priest, Margaret Haire, Grace Elbert and Miss Ruby Tyler of Troy made a leisurely trip to Virginia taking time for tours of historic Jamestown and Williamsburg. On the way home Margaret says that they really enjoyed seeing the Civil War Centennial in Richmond.

We know Sara Priest will always remember these days in Shenandoah Valley in the shadow of the Blue Ridge Mountains.

AN EXTREMELY NICE TRIP was made recently by Mildred Pearce and daughter, Rosemary and Linda. They visited Mildred's parents, the C. S. Leves, and her sisters' families, the Jimmy Peaces and the Mildred Colliers, who live in Avon Park, Florida. After a visit of several days in Avon Park, they all went to Miami to see Mildred's nephew, Albert M. Collier, receive his M.D. degree. The new Dr. Collier, who is interesting now in Miami, is the son of the Mildred Colliers.

Mildred was accompanied home by the Jimmy Peaces and Mary. While here they were entertained by the Lewis Peaces and other relatives.

FLORIDA and other natives winging home this past week, Mary Ruth (Fleming) Perdue, of Naples, Florida, spent several days here with her sister, Ginevra Kendrick, Mrs. Claude Fleming, of Brundidge, since because of her real, nice time.

The Murphrees, Kate, Boyd and Janet, joined Dr. (Murphy) Trains and her family and Susan (Murphy) Davis for a weekend of surf and sand.

IN A CONVERSATION with Mrs. McCreary she told

MIDDLE AGED AT 27?

In 1920 when the average life expectancy was 54, a person 27 had lived half his life. Now thanks to amazing scientific discoveries, the average life expectancy is over 65 years.

Medical science has also made advances which permit longer periods of today's healthier, more pleasant one.

us that she and Doctor McCreary had a most interesting trip to Nashville recently. While he attended to business, she saw the city and sights. Prior to their trip, Mary Canale (McCreary) Ward, of Auburn, and her son, John, spent two weeks here while John, Roy, was attending to duties with the reserves. Mary Canale and John visited her sister-in-law in Huntsville while her parents were in Nashville.

ALSO in that state last week were Poncey and George Collier who took Mary and Clive on a tour of Chattanooga and other points of interest.

BACK HOME from Detroit and many exciting events are Katherine and Paul Windham. Frances Jo invited Harriet Collier to go along on the trip and we know that must have been two of the ourst sights in the big city.

when she taught the second grade, it seems. And we would like to add our best wishes to this very nice lady who always has a smile and kind word for everyone, a trait that seems to have been handed down to all her family.

THE DINNER HOUR was seven-thirty and as we drove up the winding drive we admired the graceful columns of the house outlined against the tall pine trees. Martha Smith has returned home after a long stay in the Birmingham hospitals. Mrs. Lynwood Padgett told us how very much all of the family had appreciated the flowers, cards and letters sent to her father and how much they had meant to him. We agreed with her that Elba's people are the finest.

"HAPPY BIRTHDAY" was the official greeting last Sunday to Mrs. Addie Moore, mother of Julian Moore and grandmother of the five lively Moore youngsters. The day was spent with friends who came to dinner or to spend the afternoon or just to wish Mrs. Moore a nice day and everyone involved had a really nice time.

Here for dinner and the cutting of the large tiered birthday cake were the Moore youngsters, Mrs. V.A. Mock, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mock and Mrs. Addie Moore's Mother (Mrs. Estelle Moore's Mother) all of Andalusia; Mrs. Estelle Moore and Mrs. Hendon Blackman and Connie Gantt; Mrs. J. T. from her learned some of the news about our Enterprise relatives.

The Eastern new home was of much interest to all of us and particularly the men who had not seen it before. Doug has proved an able host and we complimented him on the magnificent job he had done on refinishing the antique furniture that is used throughout. The deep, rich color of the floors is heightened by the extensive use of white in walls, draperies and carpets. The use of natural woods in the lovely, old antique pieces that show the hours of work put into their refinishing was another touch we liked.

The dining room, seen through an opening past the carved paneling of the staircase, is my favorite room, with its drop leaf table and the straight lines of a magnificent china cabinet to complement a nice buffet holding tall candles.

The evening ended far too soon and it was time to thank Martha for a delicious dinner and several hours of delightful conversation.

Household Hints

Blood spots can be removed from garments by applying a few drops of water and then powdering the spot thickly with starch. After the starch has dried, brush it off and the stains will be gone.

The secret of proper care and cleaning of barbeque equipment is prompt attention after each use. Line the grill with aluminum foil, then add sawdust, gravel or pellets. This helps prevent burned-on grills and absorbs drippings.

Sawing off the legs can verto an old, low chest of drawers into an excellent end and lamp table with bonus storage space.
